

City To Quit Appliance Sales

Hondo's electric system will get out of the appliance business as of September 1, 1947, according to the terms of a resolution passed unanimously by the city council Monday night.

The issue of public competition with private business was finally brought to a vote Monday night of this week at a special meeting of the city council which was attended by the public relations and retailers committees of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce.

Councilmen present at the meeting were A. G. Bies, Richard Reilly, O. A. Fly, W. J. Nester and P. Vance, City Secretary Allen Webster and Mayor J. A. Horger. Committee members and business men present were Mrs. Erna Hollmig, Mrs. Erna Martin, Ralph De-

Montel, J. T. Pennington, W. T. Hardy, R. R. Corder, Preston C. Gaines, Geo. M. Dawson and J. S. MacManus.

A petition requesting immediate action on the matter was mailed to Mayor Horger last week. The issue had been brought up at the first meeting of the new council some months ago but had lain dormant until now.

Mayor Horger opened the meeting with the reading of the letter from the public relations committee, which asked that the city council please consider the nature of the competition they were imposing upon local business men who have to dig up taxes.

Following the reading of the letter, the Mayor said that the matter had been discussed at previous meetings, but that no action had been taken. It was pointed out that during the war it was felt desirable to maintain all possible sources of electrical appliance supply.

Speaking as chairman of the public relations committee, W. T. Hardy then outlined the case as prepared by his committee and other members of the chamber. He stated that the only argument he had ever heard in favor of the city's appliance sales was that another electric system is also doing it. Continuing, he pointed out that when the city electric system sold food freezers, it was just as logical that they should sell frozen food to go with them. That would place them in the grocery business. If it were found practical, Hardy added that it would be just as easy to sell frozen meats, and that if it were right to sell anything, it might also be nice to get in the dry goods business. Hardy mentioned that appliance sales were easy now, and that the profits looked good, but with more difficult times there would be losses which would have to be made up from power sales.

CAUSED FRICTION AND CONTRADICTION

In further discussion, Corder brought out the possibility of friction between the electric system's management and other appliance dealers which he said might be brought on because of the present competition for the sale of appliances. He illustrated his point with a recent installation made by his company. The appliance failed to function properly, and tests were made by his men and an independent electrician. The verdict was low voltage, and the recommendation was that the power system investigate to see if there were any line leaks. The preliminary investigation by one of the system's linemen agreed with the low voltage verdict but the management of the electric system contradicted this with the statement that the voltage was all right. Corder stated that he felt differences of opinion like this were inevitable as long as the electric system was trying to sell equipment in competition with local dealers, and that in his opinion such differences were very detrimental to good will between the sellers of electric power and the dealers who were helping to increase the sales of electric power by selling appliances.

SELL NECESSARY ITEMS ONLY

Reilly asked the delegation what they thought the electric system should sell, and after considerable discussion the group agreed that the sale of light globes, fluorescent tubes, fuses and similar items which might actually be needed in the event of a service call should be permitted. However, they did not feel that the system should put such items on display within their building or on the counters, or make attempts to sell those items.

Pennington said that he believed there would be greater spirit of cooperation between the system and the dealers if the electric system limited its efforts to providing proper service. He felt that arguments about voltage would end in that event.

One of the councilmen stated that W. F. Gaudin, superintendent of the city electric system, had mentioned to him that transformers were still very hard to get, and the councilman indicated that the lack of transformers might hinder delivery of proper voltages. One of the dealers agreed, adding that he believed the public was entitled to courteous service and explanations, that the shortage of materials was no excuse for discourtesy. Fly stated that the city electric system should give courteous service to all alike.

SEPT. 1 SET AS DEADLINE

Fly entered a motion before the city council to the effect that the city electric system be directed to cease the sale and delivery of electrical appliances effective as of September 1, 1947. Reilly seconded the motion, and upon being placed to a vote it was carried unanimously.

W. J. Nester expressed concern over the possible loss of the Hotpoint franchise in the town, and nearly all of the appliance dealers present stated that such a well-known line was almost certain to be continued. Dawson added that if Hotpoint were to act like most national distributors, they would have a man here within a few days to select a new dealer.

The meeting was then adjourned.

MAIZE PRICE CLIMBS 15c TO 2.75 AS HEAT DAMAGES NORTHERN CROPS

Medina county maize growers were cheered Tuesday to learn that the price was currently around $2.75 per hundred pounds. This represents an advance of around 15c since last week, and the gains are being caused by the heat wave in the north which is damaging the corn crop.

Local corn producers can get around $2.60 per bushel for number 2 white shelled corn, with some grades a little better.

16 Train Cars In Pile-Up Here

Third Wreck In Same Place Say Oldtimers In Recalling County's Past

J. Crow, Bob Reynolds Lend Memories To Anvil Herald Editor

The freight train pileup East of Hondo last Sunday morning furnished good food for the hunger of county sensation and spectacle seekers, but in the memories of a few older citizen of the community it stirred some interesting recollections of the railroads historical past.

Joseph W. (for Washington) Crow and Bob Reynolds provided the memories for The Anvil Herald. Crow came to Medina County "June 19, 1890, at 6 p.m." and so has a pretty good recollection of the railroad in the county. Bob Reynolds was a railroader for over 45 years before retiring in Hondo, coming to this county in about 1920.

Interesting fact about train wrecks in the vicinity of Hondo is that three of the four in our history occurred in the same spot. Back in 1903 or thereabouts a train loaded with a good supply of silver bullion in bars weighing about 100 pounds cracked up in exactly the same spot. Joe Crow has good reason to remember this one—he got enough lumber out of the old cars to build himself a barn and a roof.

About ten years after that Bob Reynolds father, who was a section chief at the time, was cleaning up the roadbed in that vicinity and found one of the 100 pound bars of silver bullion.

In 1920 the spot was scene of another wreck in which an unidentified man was killed. The train was heavily loaded with asphalt and, coming down the Dunlay hill, the engine wouldn't hold the heavy load and the engine spread the tracks where a small spur cut off. The engine overturned and the heavy cars of asphalt came crashing down crushing completely the cars between them and the locomotive. At first it was thought there were no casualties. But then a coat was found, then a hat, then a shoe, finally a man crushed between the cars.

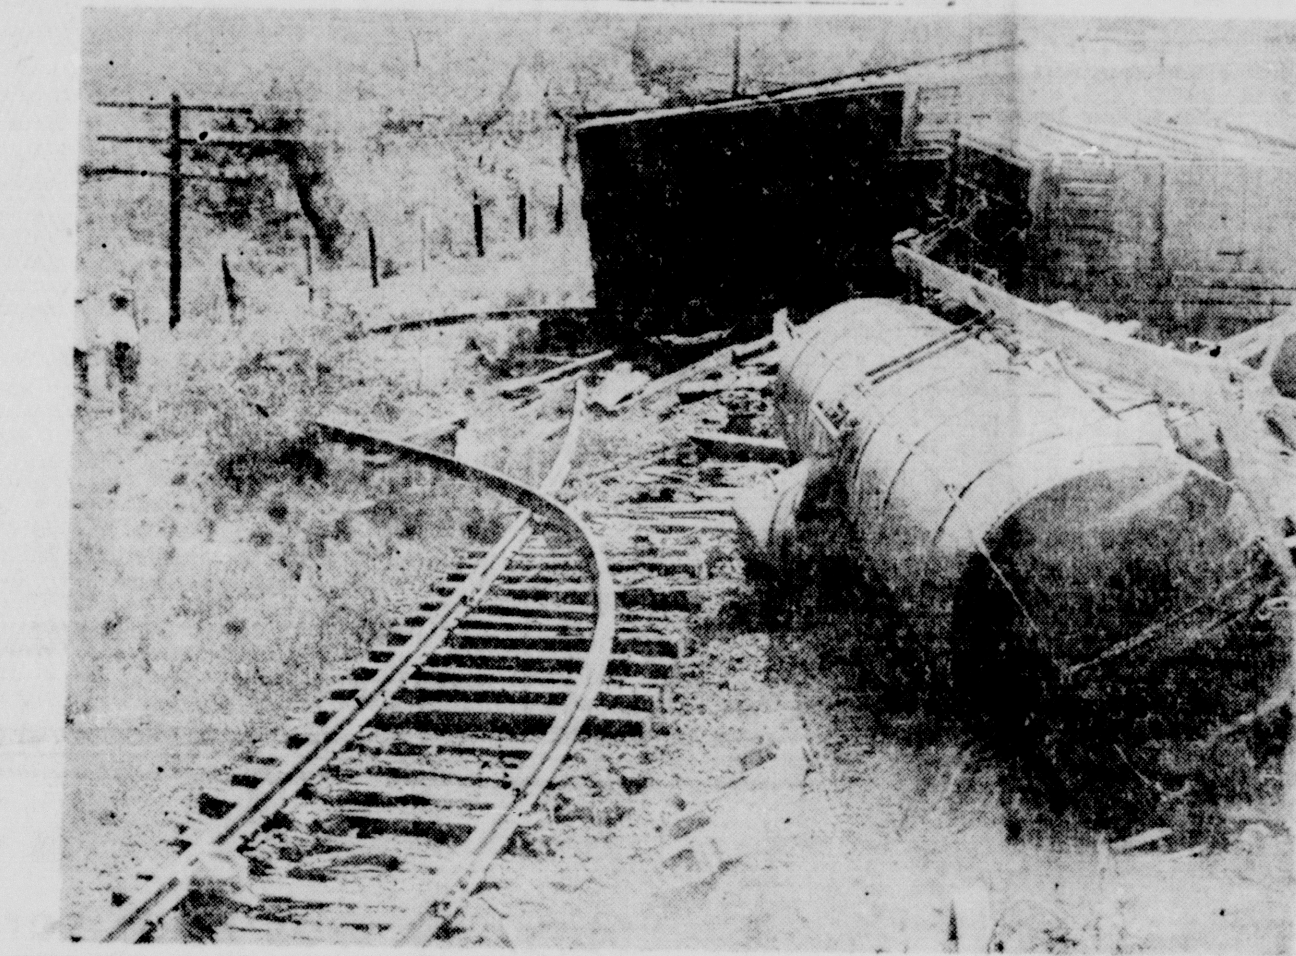

Reynolds was chief when the wreck occurred, had been here only a few days. One of the cars was loaded with wine, brown sugar, and the workers who arrived then they discovered the wine. The foreman of the crew stayed in one barrel, the rest work he had done, according to Reynolds.

Another train crackup in the vicinity of Reynolds was early in 1900's when a locomotive blew west of Hondo where the main road makes its first turn. Reynolds theory on the reason for the three wrecks occurring in the place is that the trains are hard down the Dunlay grade and build up momentum to make the Hondo creek grade.

YALOR KICKS, BLOCKS IN BATTLE ALL-STAR AT EL PASO; FIRST ... ALL FOR HONDO OWLS AUG. 30

Former Hondo Owl backfield ace Taylor failed to make the press notices after the North All-Star game in El Paso last night, but not because he occupies an important niche in Jess Neely's lineup.

Neely, biggest back on the field, and the entire first half, which was quite an honor considering array of stellar backs at Neely's disposal. He did the kicking off and the ball carrying, registering one yard gain according to the El Paso Post, but other backs got most of the glory because Taylor played the blocking spot. He saw quite a bit of service in both of the final drives and was labeled by the El Paso Post as of "sterling" quality. The Hondoans who listened to the broadcast from El Paso thought Taylor muffed one kickoff. He didn't, according to Coach Tom Bridges who the game. Taylor purposely kicked the short to keep it from the fast backs since there was only a few minutes of playing time left in the half. The ball went to a lineman,

Faulty Truck Is Blamed; Traffic Goes Through In 14 Hours

Sulphur Lost, Cattle O. K. 60 Cars Escape

Traffic was resumed at 11 p.m. last Sunday on the Southern Pacific lines east and west through Hondo just 14 hours after a west-bound freight train piled up on one of its own trucks about four miles east of Hondo resulting in derailment of 16 cars.

Road crews were put to work within a few hours building a bypass around the wreckage, and on the following day railroad cranes went to work on removal of the mangled cars. It was expected that the roadbed would be completely restored and normal speeds resumed by the end of this week, according to S. P. Agent Joseph E. Johnson.

Wreck occurred between 8:30 and 8:45 a. m. Sunday, when, according to unofficial reports, the supports on one of the trucks broke. The truck, (set of wheels on which the car rolls,) did a flip-flop under the car and landed across the rails blocking the next car.

The locomotive and 26 cars in the lead, loaded chiefly with cattle were unaffected. Sixteen cars in the middle piled up, and 34 cars on the rear escaped unscathed.

Cars that piled up were loaded with sulphur, canned goods, wine and various other materials. One car was loaded with unslacked lime which caught fire Monday night when rain water got to it. Unslacked lime fires on contact with water. Hondo firemen went to the scene, but since water could not stop it the lime burned.

On the following Sunday, Aug. 24, the morning speaker is to be Rev. C. A. Greenwalt of San Antonio, and Rev. Robert L. Mumme, Hondo, will hold the evening services. Rev. C. F. Curl, executive secretary of the Southwest Texas Conference Inter-Board Council will fill the pulpit at the morning service, Aug. 31, and Dickie Fly, Hondo's newest candidate for the Methodist ministry, will be the evening speaker.

Mrs. Henry Opelt returned to her home in Natalia Thursday after spending several days in a San Antonio hospital.

Mrs. Opelt was bitten on the finger by a poisonous snake while squirrel-hunting with her son earlier in the week.

Firemen Fight 5 a. m. Blaze

Hondo's Volunteer Firemen were called from their beds at 5 a.m. last Friday morning, but too late to save the house of Ysidro Garza, in the northwest part of town, which was almost completely devoured by flames before the alarm was turned in.

Garza was out of town working at the time, and no one was in the house. Firemen arrived in time to save a small one-room house next door, the east side of which was blazing when they got there.

A quantity of small arms ammunition exploded, giving a scare to some of the spectators. It sounded almost like a machine gun.

There were no theories as to how the fire started.

Rites Thursday For Hy. Batot

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 14, at St. John's Catholic Church in Hondo for Henry Batot, Sr., 77, who died on Aug. 12 at 8:40 p.m. in Hondo.

The deceased was born Nov. 17, 1870, in D'Hanis, son of John and Mary Ann Batot, both of whom passed many years ago. He was engaged in stock farming in Medina County all of his life and was married in 1895. His wife died in 1940.

Surviving are his children, Henrietta Batot, Meta Weyand, Hugo Batot, of Hondo and Gus of San Antonio.

Funerals were Milton, Oscar, Raymond and Irwin Batot, Joe Meyer and Harry Meyer.

No Open Season For Whitewings

Medina County hunters can go after their main aerial targets, Mourning Doves, starting the first of next month, and they can keep banging away for 45 days according to Game Warden Aug. Timmerman.

Dove season runs from Sept. 1 to Oct. 15, with no open white-wing season in the county this year. The county remains in the north zone this year, thanks to the efforts of Timmerman, and the limit is ten per day. Timmerman warned that any hunter over 17 years old who is not hunting on his own property on which he resides must have a hunting license.

Season on ducks, geese and coot, or mudhens, runs from Nov. 4 to 17 and from Dec. 16 to 29, all four dates included. Ducks are scarce this year and the possession limit is eight, the bag limit four. Geese bag limit and possession limits are both four, and for coot hunters there is a bag and possession limit of 25.

Timmerman also warned that shotguns must be 10 gauge or less, and can not hold more than three shots.

School Board Meets Monday

Board of Trustees of the Hondo Independent School District will meet Monday night in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock to adopt a budget for the 1947-48 school year, according to an announcement last week by R. L. Kollman, board president.

All taxpayers are invited to attend the meeting, at which Superintendent H. C. Richards will submit an outline of proposed expenditures and estimated receipts to the board for their approval or revision.

According to Supt. Richards the coming year's expenditures will amount to somewhere around $85,000, with increased teachers sal-

Noonan With Aftosa Program

Martin Noonan, son of Judge and Mrs. R. J. Noonan, is working with a special commission of the United States government on the Aftosa program, better known as the hoof and mouth disease control program in and around the Mexico City area.

In the commission are a doctor, an appraiser and a paymaster, with the doctor inspecting and condemning cattle in infected areas, the appraiser estimating their value, and the paymaster, which is the position that Noonan fills, paying ranchers for their condemned animals. Amount paid the owners is based on whether the cattle are range, grade, or registered, but all cattle in infected areas are killed even if they are not infected at the time.

The Mexican and United States governments are cooperating in this program and share in the reimbursement to the ranchers for their condemned animals.

First call for members of the Hondo Owls squad for 1947-48 will be Saturday, Aug. 30, at 9:30 a. m., when the bi-district champs will draw their equipment preparatory to drills on Monday, Sept. 1. Coach T. D. Bridges announced this week.

The squad will drill twice a day, in the mornings and afternoons, Bridges said. Season will open on the second weekend of the month with Sabinal in Hondo.

Of the two open dates in the schedule printed three weeks ago in The Anvil Herald, one might be filled. If a game is played on Oct. 17, it will be played here in Hondo. The Nov. 1 open date will not be filled, Bridges declared.

as planned, and he was nailed on the spot.

Coach Bridges was much impressed with San Antonio's Kyle Rote. "He's the best ballplayer I ever saw in high school," reports Tom. "He kicks, passes, runs—he's just got everything there is."

THE SWING OF TEXAS MARKETS

Many farm products gained ground on southwest markets last week, and others held their own fairly well, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

New crop corn started moving from South Texas farms last week, and white corn prices declined several cents per bushel. Yellow corn advanced, however; as dry weather in the corn belt threatened damage to the crop. Oats, barley, and grain sorghums strengthened some, too. Decreased marketing of winter wheat sold firm and Midwest and Great Plains growers had about completed the record harvest.

Most feeds held about steady to firm but gray shorts and bran dropped $3.50 to $5 per ton. Dry weather improved hay demand, and prices advanced $1.50 to $2.00 per ton. South Texas rains helped growing peanuts, but North Texas and southern Oklahoma became very dry. Wool saw active trading in advance of the reinstated government purchase program which began August 6 under the new wool act.

Southwest peaches sold lower last week as demand slowed, especially for the smaller sizes. Hot weather held watermelons firm at most markets. Colorado peas and cauliflower weakened, but beans and lettuce sold firm. Potatoes, onions, and tomatoes from southwestern producing areas strengthened slightly toward the end.

With hotter weather, top quality eggs became even more scarce, and markets held firm. Prices stayed up fairly well on liberal offerings of medium to lower grade eggs. Demand for poultry slowed some, but prices remained generally firm on moderate receipts. Heavy hens brought mostly 22 to 26 cents, and fryers 32 to 37.

Hog markets generally overcame early-week losses to close mostly 25 to 50 cents higher. Closing bulk of good and choice medium weight butchers sold at $27 at San Antonio, $27.50 at Fort Worth, $27.75 at Oklahoma City, and $26.50 to $27.25 at Wichita. Week's top at Denver was $30, within 25 cents of all time high.

Sheep prices remained largely steady for the week, and most spring lambs went a little higher. Medium to good spring lambs brought mostly $18 to $21 at San Antonio, and closed at $19 to $22 at Fort Worth. Closing bulk of good and choice grades sold at $22 to $22.50 at Oklahoma City, and around $24 at Denver.

Many cattle classes brought lower prices last week. Most stocker and feeder types, as well as slaughter cows, calves, vealers, and bulls dropped from 50 cents to $1.50. Steers and yearlings weakened at some markets. Common and medium cows brought $11.50 to $14.50 at Houston and Fort Worth, and $12 to $15 at San Antonio and Wichita. Medium and good kinds moved at $13 to $15.50 at Oklahoma City, while common to good kinds sold at $15 to $19 at Denver.

Chick Chatter

BY CLARENCE MUMME

MUMME'S HATCHERY HONDO, TEXAS

It is a rare flock of chickens and they're dangerous because that is completely free of worms. Indeed, one is not far from wrong in assuming that worm parasites can be found wherever poultry raising is practiced.

Most poultrymen begin to suspect worms only when their chickens develop symptoms which are visible to the eye. In reality, such symptoms are an indication that the affected birds are heavily ridden by parasites and that the infestations are so severe that the over-all health of each bird is lowered in marked degree. When worms in great numbers infect a bird, the health of the bird may be damaged beyond the hope of complete recovery; and even death may result.

The Worm Cycle

Of course there are thousands of flocks which are healthy in appearance and give no indications of worminess; yet, somewhere in each of these flocks there are apt to be worm parasites. There may not be enough of them to cause visible ill-effects among the chickens, but the worms are there —

Extremely Prolific

Some types of worms are said to lay up 50,000,000 eggs each. So if only a tiny fraction of these eggs lodge and hatch inside a chicken there is a strong possibility that a heavy infestation may develop unless the flock manager takes counter action.

Because of the nature of the worm cycle, the obvious way to avoid worm damage is to practice ceaseless sanitation. It is when birds are reared in filth that the worm threat is most dangerous.

Miss Norma Zane Kollman Bride Of Truman Willhoite Make Home Houston

The wedding of Miss Norma Zane Kollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kollman, and Truman Willhoite of Houston, was solemnized Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m. in First Methodist Church of Hondo. H. Ellis Thomas officiated in double ring service. Mrs. H. B. Eggen, at the organ, led "I Love You Truly" while Miss Margaret Ann Laughinghouse lighted tapers, and also played the accompaniment to Mrs. H. Ellis Thomas rendition of "Because". During the ceremony, Mrs. Eggen played "Meditation From Thais."

The bride wore a white wool suit and a pale blue feather hat. She carried a white orchid with satin streamers and orange blossoms on a white Bible. Maid of honor, Miss Betty Ann Garrison, chose a rose beige suit with brown accessories. Miss Joy Willhoite, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid and wore an aqua colored suit with black accessories. Each of the brides attendants wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Kollman, mother of the bride, chose a grey dress and the groom's mother, Mrs. C. T. Willhoite wore black. Their corsages were white carnations also.

Marcellus Garrison served as best man, Milton Sorrels as groomsmen, and Harry Kollman Jr. as usher.

Home of the bride's parents was the scene of a reception following the ceremony. White gladioli and asters were used in decorating, with asters forming the centerpiece of the dining table. The three-tier wedding cake was all white and decorated with white rosebuds. A miniature bride and groom were mounted at the top. Fruit punch was also served.

For traveling, the bride chose a black faille suit with red accessories. ## QUIHI NEARLY DUMPS HONDO, RIO BOWS TO LACOSTE; UTOPIA SKINS D'HANIS AS IDLE CASTRO MOVES UP

Hondo's usually roaring Lions stopped their roaring and humbly accepted a gift from the Gods of baseball last Sunday when Quihi gave them a 10-6 victory.

It was Quihi's day all the way, up to the ninth when the Lions pulled out of a hole and went on to win. Teddy Reitzer blanked the Lions for five innings, allowing not so much as a scratch hit, and then F. Hartman held them to four hits for another four and two thirds innings. With two out in the ninth, Quihi led 6-4, then the shortstop threw H. Finger's easy grounder into right field and the Lions, rejuvenated, started hitting.

Eleven Quihi errors caused the defeat, but they also made more spectacular the stellar job of the Northern men in almost topping the high-riding Lions. Quihi made two of its runs on the four Hondo errors, and H. Hartman's triple scored three more. Embrey, who hurled only the last inning, was credited with the win.

LaCoste's Boosters advanced to within a half game of fourth place in Hwy. 90 league standing when they tumbled Rio Medina 6-1 last Sunday.

Hank Geiger scattered five Rio while his mates banged out safe-hits well to keep the enemy subdued ties including a homer by E. Keller.

Meanwhile up in Utopia the cellar-dwellers pulled another upset on a D'Hanis mine that has lost its sting. Utopia dropped the once proud Pirates 8-3, third time a cellar team has licked D'Hanis after Quihi broke the Pirates' early season nine game victory streak. Idle Castroville found itself in a second place tie with the Easterners.

H. Mauldin did the hurling for Utopia, V. Porter and Boyce aiding him with triples and McCrain helping with a triple and a homer. Nester hit a homer for one of the nine D'Hanis hits.

Hartung's Sore Arm Healing

Clint's o.k. He has pulled a tendon in his throwing arm and will be out for about another week.

That's the big news of the week for Medina County's Hartung followers, and it came in a letter last week from Clint to his old coach J. G. Barry. Dozens of people asked us what had happened to his arm, and how serious it was, in the last two weeks.

The tendon was pulled in practice when the batter bunted down the third base line. Clint raced over and scooped it up but the ground and grass were wet and as he made the throw to first his foot slipped. Throwing off balance caused the tendon to pull and numerous x-rays and examinations showed that there was nothing more serious.

TAKE POLITICS
SERIOUSLY

In this writer's native state of Mississippi, he thought when he was a boy it was because the state was so shortly removed from the days of reconstruction. He was not enough to remember some of the aftermath of "carpet-bagism." The passing of time seems to have little to cool the ardor of the Mississippians when it comes election year — and that is every year if not oftener! The state-wide Democratic primary which was a single independent election to say nothing of a "black-Renan," had so much as a look in — held on Tuesday, Aug. 5. The election over a few Mississippians just previous to the election read in one of them the following lament.

THE QUIETEST political year in the history of Mississippi is setting in, observers to wondering just how come over the people. Editorial Spraggins, Jr., makes some interesting comment about this oblique political lassitude in the Tate Democrat: "One of the most striking features of the current campaign is the appalling lack of interest manifested by citizens. And as always is the case, it is the very same people who vote but checking carefully the difficult candidates, or who fail to vote, who will crow the loudest over the election of some public official or two from now. Last week on one of the hot days, a candidate for state office came puffing into his office. A rotund sort of person he was dripping with perspiration and his clothes were drooping. The usual round of hand-shakes we started discussing the campaign. Said he: 'It is the most un-usual campaign I have ever seen. No-seems to know I'm running for except me.'

After reading this we were curious what had come over the spirit of the day. Mississippians and the columns of all available magazines and found them every one with political advertising. The from which the above was clipped had a page ad for one of the candidates for governor. Several others had page ads for one or two gubernatorial candidates. By last we remembered that during years of newspapering in Texas paper had never carried such an or a gubernatorial candidate. Another exchange three candidates. FLETCHER DAVIS, Last Page)

BIG REVOLUTIONARY CHANGES, changes so big, in fact, as to be almost beyond one's mental grasp, are taking place rapidly at the present time.

For instance, the British government, that has been, in a manner, owned and ordered by the Jew owners of the Bank of England for several generations, and through its power has set the world's pace in power politics and imperialistic expansion, seems to be fulfilling the prophecy we heard made at the beginning of World War II. A young man whose name is not remembered, but who seemed to be well informed and was sent here by the higher-ups to set up and direct the USO service in Hondo, stated to this writer, in a discussion of the war's outlook, that no matter what the outcome, England was destined to lose her world leadership and would become a second rate power.

We knew England had defaulted in payment of her debts to the United States incurred in World War I, that she had taken a terrific military drubbing climaxed at Dunkirk, and without outside military aid was doomed. But we gave little thought to his prediction save to remember it and to now recall it in the presence of the news from that once proud country.

Despite the pleadings of that country's elder statesman, Winston Churchill, the house of Commons on Aug. 8 approved, by a vote of 251 to 148, a measure approving such socialistic powers as authorizing the government to seize and run factories it considers inefficient, order workers into essential industries and force unessential industries to close by denying them coal and raw material.

Such measures, however essential they may be, are but symptoms of what ails that distraught country — bankruptcy. She is bankrupt both in financial credit and in statesmanship — a condition that portends financial ruin to industry and a common level of poverty and squalor to all.

Aside from sympathy for any troubled people, our interest in England's predicament is the reflection that we in the United States are following in her footsteps, that we have people apparently and designedly seeking to hasten those steps towards the same end.

The wise profit by the experience of others and even the fool can teach such a valuable lesson by showing them how to avoid the fool's folly.

CONVENTION IN UVALDE?

We don't know how they came out yet, but Uvalde made a strong bid for the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association conventions for 1948 and 1949. Dolph Briscoe and Jack Richardson journeyed to Fredericksburg last weekend to make the plea for Uvalde which would bring the annual shows and sales as well as membership meetings to that city for the next two years. Miss Jackie Richardson of Uvalde, incidentally, was crowned "Miss Mohair" at Fredericksburg last weekend when the association met.

Cows Come Home After Paper Comes Out

Robert H. Riff found four stray cows about the middle of July, and decided to let the owner come after them. He put a little want ad in The Anvil Herald about it, and a friend showed up right away to claim them.

When Mr. Riff turned down payment for the pasture, his friend offered to let him keep the cows until they got some more weight on them, but both decided that would be too much of a good thing.

The cows came home, and they found their way with the help of a want ad. If you have found something that you'd like to return to the rightful owner, there is no better

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN TOKYO, JAPAN — William O. Norwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Norwood, Hondo, now stationed with the 8th Engineer Squadron, attached to the famed 1st Cavalry Division, was promoted July 15, to the rank of private first class.

VAL-U-DAY A HIT

Over at Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras, where the twin cities last week celebrated the first international joint sales event in history, a crowd of 6,500 came from near and far to save money in the city-wide sales.

The two towns cooperated in every way to make the sales genuine and to offer the visitors real savings in their purchasing. Rainy weather kept many hundreds away, according to the E. P. News Guide. Eagle Pass started the Val-U-Day event last month, advertised it widely, and drew 10,000 shoppers to the town.

JAMBOREE AT SABINAL

The Jaycees of Crystal City will present their Jaycee Jamboree at Sabinal under the sponsorship of the Sabinal Lions club August 15, according to the Zavala County Sentinel. The show will make a minimum of $100 for the Crystal Junior Chamber of Commerce, includes musical numbers and specialties.

MORE OIL IN DEVINE

A new well, the third on the John Camp lease three miles southeast of Devine, came in a week ago producing 45 barrels a day, according to the Devine News. The News reports that this is the best of the several wells brought in east of town and it is hoped that bigger producers may yet be brought in.

THE JUDGE IS GUILTY

Devine's News also reports that Judge Lockhart, Justice of the Peace, fined two boys a week ago who had violated a new highway parking law. Checking it over, the judge found that he himself had violated the same law, proclaimed himself guilty and fined himself, as shown in last month's report.

HONDO — A GOOD HOST?

You don't pay a second visit to the host who takes no interest in your personal comfort. It's human nature to resent a straight-backed chair, an unquenched thirst or an empty stomach.

When we're thinking of Hondo as a trade center for Medina County, we should remember that when folks do come to Hondo to do their shopping, Hondo is the host.

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Hondo, place yourself in the shoppers position for a moment. If you had driven as far as 30 miles with a wife and a few children for an afternoon's shopping, what facilities would you find for your comfort?

Hondo is the logical shopping center for the county. What facilities do we have for our shoppers? For the children they must bring along?

Wouldn't it be worth while to have a lounge where shoppers could go in and sit down for a while for a little chat? Where they could relax and freshen up a bit and have a good cold drink of water?

And how about the kids? Wouldn't it be worth while to have a real city park in the place we call a park, the place we use only to dump sand and gravel on when a paving project comes up? Wouldn't it be worth while to have play facilities there

If you've ever played poker, maybe you know chances of drawing a full house are one in 694; a royal flush, one in 649,740. All chances of making a fortune at gambling are slim.

Chance-taking on highways is risky business, too — especially passing on hills and blind curves.

Take the driver who's stuck in a long line of cars, behind a 1930 jalopy that's belching exhaust fumes in his face. Does he fume, too, and step on the gas? Not if he's smart, he doesn't. He knows there's a very good possibility that on the other side of that hill, another driver is also toying with the idea of pulling out of line.

No one has figured out the mathematical odds involved in highway gambling. But everybody knows that the dealer is DEATH — who never lends the loser a shirt to wear home. And that the stakes are human lives, and broken, crippled bodies.

Mr. Robert Farr, president of the LaPryor C. of C., spoke to the Hondo Lions last week and we had to credit him with the $64 question of the week.

He was talking about the community as our business, and the schools and churches all being part of the business. "Driving into Hondo," he said, "I read your highway sign — 'This is God's Country' — and it made me wonder. When did you pay your rent last?"

For kids while their parents are shopping, and even to hire a competent person every Saturday to stand watch over the kids. With benches, and shade trees and water fountains?

Our Chamber of Commerce could be the adult lounge, when the city moves out all the electric appliances it has been retailing.

The cost of all this would be so small. And think of yourself as a shopper. Wouldn't you appreciate it?

Getting telephones
for those waiting

1 Besides a telephone instrument, we need cables and switchboards to furnish telephone service.

2 Factories are turning out this complex equipment faster and faster.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

3 But the need is nation-wide. In the Southwest alone, equipment is needed in 700 cities to serve 235,000 people.

There are still shortages and delays, but we are getting our share of what the factories produce and we're putting it in as quickly as we can, in as many places as we can.

One thing we do know...if ingenuity and hard work can bring it about, we'll have this job licked one of these days.

Yes, here's how more than 5,500 people died and thousands more were injured last year—because someone took one or two drinks, and then drove.

If you think you can drink and then drive safely you're simply courting suicide—or murder. You're drinking a toast to Death!

Statistics show that one out of every six drivers involved in fatal automobile accidents had been drinking. Drinking drivers are three or four times more likely to be involved in accidents. Tests have proved time and again that a couple of drinks are sufficient to lower a driver's reactions to the danger point. When quick action and alert judgment are demanded, the driver who has been drinking fails.

If it were only the drinking driver himself who paid the penalty, that would be bad enough. But when he cuts short the lives of other innocent people—riders in his car, occupants of other cars, or pedestrians caught by his erratic driving—that's manslaughter!

Don't smile when you read this, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen. The law operates with a heavy hand on drinking drivers. It is going to be even tougher in the future. It's serious business!

When you drink, don't drive. When you drive, don't drink!

Spells Success Or Failure Of Driver Education

Most safety experts will agree that the ultimate solution of the safe driver problem rests in the development of the proper driver attitude. Those of us who are charged with responsibility of keeping an official eye upon the traffic situation in our respective states know that bad driving has been at the bottom of nearly every accident we have recorded. Chance-taking speedsters, poor judgment at a curve, failure to outguess the other fellow in the desire to beat him to it, along with a hundred and one other little faults in the driver's attitude, have been piling up a national casualty record, which has made that of the terrible war just ended seem almost insignificant.

All of these faults just mentioned should have been corrected by proper training when the operator first began to learn how to drive a car. However, the success of that training, like the success of all training, would depend entirely upon the attitude of the person receiving it. All the training in the world will not overcome the erratic actions of a born fool. Only by the most severe punitive measures can he be handled and restrained.

The development of proper driver attitude is divided into two separate phases: Correcting the faults of present drivers and training future drivers.

The first phase is that of endeavoring to correct the driver attitude of present-day drivers who have had little or no training and who may have had driving habits of long standing. Only by utilizing every channel and vehicle of propaganda; through the medium of the press, the radio, the motion picture, the spoken word; by organized local campaigns and intensive cooperation by all civic organizations and civic-minded individuals can the individual at the wheel of the car today be made safety conscious. The same kind of patriotic appeal must be made to them as is made in behalf of the Red Cross, Community Chest, the Salvation Army and other worthy causes. In other words, civic consciousness must be aroused before the individual driver can fully appreciate and carry out, not only his responsibility to himself and his family, but to the other fellow and the community at large.

That phase of the driver problem is by far the most difficult because it must deal with a great number of people who today are driving motor vehicles with reckless disregard for their own lives and those of their fellowmen. It will require tremendous effort and a heavy expenditure of funds if it is to be far-reaching enough to get the desired results. That results can be obtained has been definitely proved.

Where there have been intensive civic safety movements and intensive publicity, the traffic casualty list has gone down. We have had that experience in Pennsylvania since last August, when the Governor's Safety Campaign was inaugurated. There has been constant activity and organized effort in every section of our Commonwealth. Fatalities have decreased along with injuries and accidents. In Pennsylvania, we have been so encouraged by the results, that we propose to add still greater impetus to the campaign in the days ahead. We believe we are giving it the leadership that any such campaign must have.

The other phase of the driver attitude problem is safety education in the schools. There has been steadily increasing interest and considerable action in this field in recent months. Education is the real solution of the driver attitude problem.

To develop the proper driver and pedestrian attitude there must be an intensive educational program in all of the schools of the country, starting at the very foundation with the kindergarten where the child gains its first real impressions of life and begins forming those habits which very often cling throughout a lifetime. These little ones are the potential drivers. If they learn to drive right, they will conserve human life rather than destroy it. Teach the young generation the meaning of traffic laws, the killing potentialities of the automobile, the rules of the road.

the obligation of courtesy to others and the vital necessity of making sure at all times that the cars they are driving are mechanically perfect. If you teach them all that, then you will have come as close to having developed the proper attitude as it is humanly possible to do.

We have a grave and dangerous problem in the millions of bad drivers we must cope with today. Only by the most stringent measures of enforcement and education can we solve it. The problem of tomorrow — that of the potential driver — can and will be solved by education.

SUBTERFUGE, INC.

The Anvil Herald is not going to tell the people of Medina County how to vote on the constitutional amendment coming up Saturday of this week.

But The Anvil Herald is going to make sure that our people here will be among the few who have their eyes and ears open when the shouts of "No New Taxes" roll in from up Austin way.

No new taxes? State ad valorem taxes brought in $10,890,769.60 last year, when assessed at .37 on the $100 value. This year the tax rate has been set at .72, just two cents less than double.

The way our pencil works down here at The Anvil Herald, this adds up to twenty bucks we are going to have to pay this year where we paid ten bucks last year. But the Austin experts and economists tell us that nothing but ignorance and prejudice makes us think such a thing, let alone talk about it out loud.

But if the state is going to get twice as much money, who is going to give it to them? Our governor and our legislature assures us there is no increase in taxes, no added taxes, but when you get The State's bill you can be sure that every $10 bill you fork over is going to say $20 on it no matter how sure you are of the fact that it is just a $10 bill.

And they assure us that this constitutional amendment coming up Saturday will result in no raise in taxes. No! The money going to the schools from that amendment will come from a five cent ad valorem tax authorized for veterans and their families back in confederate days. Seven cents was authorized by our constitution, only two cents of it has been levied. The other nickel, WHICH IS NOT NOW LEVIED, WILL BE LEVIED when the amendment passes.

No, no new tax was authorized. But we are going to start paying a tax we have not been paying before. That means you and I are going to PAY more taxes, whether any new taxes have been LEVIED or not.

Our schools need new buildings and facilities. This tax is supposed to give it to them. It will take the only available tax source from Texas veterans and give it to the schools. The veterans are not using it. With the schools using it it will increase the ad valorem tax burden some $1,500,000 annually for 30 years, a total of $45,000,000.

It's your vote, Mr. and Mrs. Medina County, and it should be used as your conscience dictates. Our purpose in this editorial is to expose the verbal subterfuge with which the Austinites are operating. Our colleges need facilities. We believe they should get them honestly and openly, with a new tax if necessary, but not by trying to hoodwink the public into thinking they are not going to pay for what they certainly will pay for.

Austin is supposed to house the mental bright lights of Texas. But when they use all their talents for political propaganda it throws inhuman burdens on the wisdom of we ordinary people.

Helping the colleges will help all of Texas, but very indirectly. To pay for each intelligent product of one of our state institutions we must also pay for a number of prejudiced, bigoted misfits educated far beyond their intelligence.

But stripping the problem of all subterfuge of method and administration, the wealth of individual Texans and not the wealth of Texas itself must build our colleges if they are to be built. President Truman, some time ago, accepted an OPA bill which was bad, because he knew he could get nothing better. Here you and I are faced with the same decision. Before the force of politics, we can probably get nothing better, so we must sign up and pay the way they say to pay — IF WE ARE IN FAVOR.

And think hard when scratching up that ballot, remembering that it was the same kind of a scratch that elected the people who try so hard to lead us astray.

Old saws and sayings to the contrary, you can teach an old dog new tricks. We admit it is more difficult than teaching him the right things when he is young. Altering the ingrained habits of a lifetime often takes little short of dynamite.

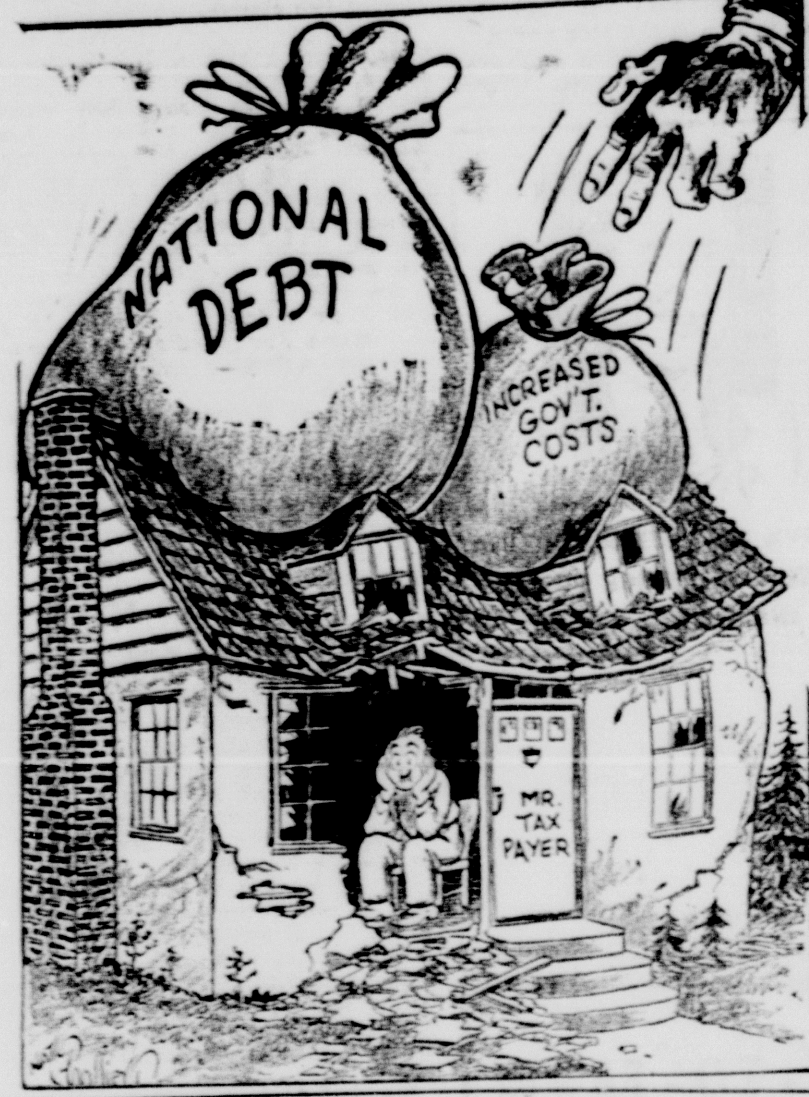

That is why we have a difficult and serious problem before us in the nation's present efforts to cut down the annual slaughter on our streets and highways. Too many drivers have become habitually poor — even dangerous — drivers. Long accustomed to ignoring the simple rules of safety and to daily taking unnecessary chances, the ordinary driver unconsciously contributes to the death and injury in traffic. If we are to save our lives and the lives of our neighbors, we must now change those habits and teach the man behind the wheel — and the unhappy pedestrian who is often under it — a new and sane regard for safety.

Though it will be hard for some individuals to break with habit, we are fortunate that older drivers are blessed with the reasoning power that comes with maturity, for this will enable them to grasp the importance of safety and their individual responsibilities in securing it.

Each driver and pedestrian has a responsibility to conduct himself on the streets and highways with constant regard for the rules and with constant consideration for the rights of others. In the final analysis, the individual is supreme. He can, by his act, in a fraction of a second either fulfill the mandate to be a safe highway user or nullify the effort which has been expended to safeguard lives and property. There is no substitute for individual caution, and no excuse for individual carelessness.

dates for the same office of sheriff were each represented by a page ad, and another paper apologized for leaving out most of its regular feature matter to make room for its flood of political advertising.

Wondering where so much of this advertising originated, we were not long left to surmise when the county paper informed us that our old home county had 47 candidates of its own, not counting state and district candidates. In our fifty-one years residence in Medina County, we have never known so large a group of office-hungry aspirants!

And we were beginning to repine at the fun we are missing — and the advertising we had missed — by not being in the game in our native state. Then we read from our favorite correspondent, writing about the numerous candidates, where she says:

"Sometimes when the housewives get tired of so many in one day, if they are in the garden they sit quietly behind the vines until they go away."

If that is "lassitude," with candidates "running" the voters to cover, what would it take to furnish Mississippi editors with a real lively campaign?
